

Die Jovis, 1. Junii, 1643.

Hereas in the Ordinance of both Houses of Parliament lately passed, for the speedy raising and lo-vying of money, for the maintenance of the Army rais'd by Parliament by taxing such as have not contributed, or lent at all towards the maintenance of the said Army, or if they have, yet not in any reasonable measure answerable to their estates, divers persons therein appointed Committees are misnamed, and divers persons fit to further the Execution of the same Ordinance are omitted to be therein named to be Committees, whereby the service (if it be not remedied) is like to be much retarded and hindred. It is therefore ordered and
